ACT DISCUSSION SERIES ON KRAB

Thanks to a grant from the Washington Commission for the Humanities and others, ACT Theatre will be trying something new this season. For each of the five plays scheduled through the spring and summer season, ACT will be holding special humanities discussions immediately after selected performances. These discussions, led by various scholars and actors will provide the audience the opportunity to share thought and reactions about the plays.

KRAB will be taping a discussion of each production and broadcasting it during the run of the play. It will be of interest to those who have or will be attending the play but not the discussion, as well as to theater buffs in general. The first play, Man and Superman, by George Bernard Shaw, focuses on issues surrounding early 20th century feminism. The discussion from that play will be aired on KRAB on May 20 at 2:30pm. A limited number of free tickets are available for these performances and discussions. Call the ACT Box Office at 285-5110 for more information.

ASIAN HERITAGE WEEK: MAY 4-10

In declaring Asian Heritage Week, the United States officially recognized for the first time the 100+ years of contributions made in America by Asian and Pacific Island peoples. From the earliest Chinese mine worker and railroad builder to the most recent Vietnamese refugee, Asian and Pacific Island people have been the victims of civil rights, economic and physical abuse similar to other immigrants of color who were brought to America as a source of cheap labor. The media played an important role in the perpetuation of second class citizenship. From the frontier presses to contemporary film, radio and television, the media has stereotyped and misrepresented the Chinese, East Indians, Indo-Chinese, Japanese, Koreans, Pakistanis, Filipinos, Samoans, Tongans and others whose cultural/language roots are in Asia or the Pacific Islands. Typical media coverage assumes that Asian/Pacific people all look alike, speak the same language, are exotic foreigners (some are sixth generation Americans), the model minority, the forgotten minority, or no minority at all.

While Asian communities all over the country are scheduling cultural and educational activities for May 4-10, not everyone is pleased. One member of the Asian/Pacific Caucus of the National Democratic Party said that Asian Heritage Week is a 'consolation prize.' The Caucus campaigned hard for Jimmy Carter and were promised some key appointments and a direct line to the President. Two years later, they got a recognition week. However token the creation of the week may be, KRAB continues to recognize the contributions of all peoples by its total public access programming. Special Asian Heritage Week programming is marked in the pages of the program schedule by *.

SIZE MATTERS: Measure your dog

NOTE: An adult dog should be able to stand up without touching the top of the cage; it should be able to lie down and stretch its legs. If you own a puppy, be sure to order a cage that will be the correct size when it becomes an adult. To secure proper fit, measure your pet from head to floor, then from nose to base of tail. A properly fitting pen will help provide comfort for your dog. See diagram, above.

TO & FROM

REPORT TO THE LISTENERS

APRIL MARATHON: At press time, the Marathon is half over and our goal of $20,000 is within reach. Next month's Guide will give a grand total of subscriptions pledged. A special thanks to all KRAB LISTENERS who pledged. . . all KRAB VOLUNTEERS, STAFF, and BOARD members whose energy went into the pre-during-post Marathon activities. . . all BUSINESS PEOPLE who donated food and materials to keep the pledging safe and sane. Not only is the Marathon our major source of station operating monies, but it brings together lots of dedicated folks who make KRAB a real community owned, public access station.

NEW PEOPLE: KRAB welcomes. . . Production Assistant Steve Kawasaki. Steve is from Garfield High School and can be heard every afternoon on-the-air and on the daily Community Calendar. and . . . Helene Silverman, a longtime KRAB volunteer and program producer, who is adding her graphics talent each month in producing the Guide. and . . . Laurie Taniguchi, a University of Washington Communications student who is interning with the Public Affairs Department. Laurie works with the International News Team in researching and writing news stories and soon will be writing articles for the Guide.

MORE VOLUNTEERS NEEDED: If you can address envelopes, sweep floors, run errands, write applications, sort and send our bulk mailings, call lists of people to help, or any number of other ongoing tasks at KRAB, please call to volunteer. Jim Anderson is about to announce a schedule of all kinds of work parties, fun parties and other kinds of activities for volunteers. Join the volunteer organization. Call Jim at 325-5110.

ADVERTISE IN THE GUIDE: We're trying to offset increasing costs of producing, printing and mailing the monthly program guide by selling ads to local community businesses.

SUBSCRIBERS: HANG IN THERE

You may be frustrated with one or more of the following problems with your subscription to public access KRAB:

1. You don't get the Guide regularly.
2. You received a renewal notice when you just sent in your money for another year.
3. You haven't received your BANK-AMERIKRAB card to use for discounts at Community Sponsor businesses.
4. You've moved and no longer get the Guide.
5. You don't get the Guide at all.

For the past six months we have been in the process of developing an efficient and organized system of handling the subscriptions. . . so that any future volunteers can continue the same process without interrupting the service to you. We have had some minor problems in the transition. Please bear with us. Call us and let us know what the problem is and we'll try to correct the problem immediately.

-- Sharon Maeda

LETTERS FROM THE LISTENERS

The International Women's Day programming surprised me. . . I was prepared to listen to 24 hours of protest rhetoric against the world in general, and men in particular. I was very pleasantly surprised when I heard that this wasn't so. Some, yes -- but mostly not. Your programming was well presented, informative, and explored practical solutions to the inequities to which women are subjected. Good work. . . . Keep it up.

Frank L. Davidson

I have recently moved to Seattle and have been delighted to find you on the dial. I particularly applaud your women's programming and KRAB GRASS. I look forward to a long and happy listening spell. . . .

We received lots of letters that said, 'I love jazz' . . . 'Please play more jazz' and more letters which said, 'Why do you play so much jazz?' . . . 'I hate jazz.' Well jazz lovers, we will continue to bring you four hours of jazz daily. And jazz haters, we will not become an all jazz station!

I've been a KRAB supporter for the last three years. I'm now in Paris, France, where there just isn't anything like a listener-supported radio station. . . I truly miss the wide variety of programming that KRAB offers its listeners. Therefore, even though I'm in Paris, I still want to pledge $25 to KRAB. . . to help keep a great radio station prospering.

You maintain my sanity. As a photographer who spends twelve hour periods at times in the dark-room, I would have become a babbling lunatic by now without your help. . . .
